Why protect your guests with AllerGuard Bedding?

Dust mites are a major cause of asthma & allergies all year round. Bedding & mattresses are ideal habitation for dust mites, however AllerGuard prevents dust mites & attacks the cause of the problem.

Dust mites are not visible to the naked eye, they are airborne and inhaling dust mite waste causes allergies for millions of people all over the world.

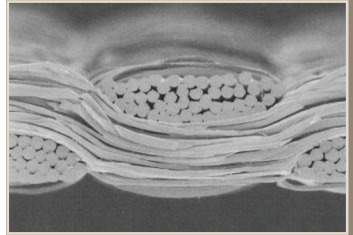

They are responsible for a most of the world's growing epidemic of asthma & allergies , including eczema, asthma and rhinitis (perennial hay fever).

Unlike pollen & food allergies, symptoms can occur all year round because the dust mite allergens are found where there is a good temperature, plenty of humidity & food - typically this is in the bedroom. We spend a third of our lives in our bedrooms in close contact with mattresses & bedding.

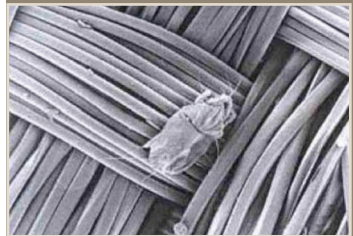

There are limited ways of using chemicals to exterminate the dust mites or destroy the allergens. Even if successful, the treatment has to be repeated constantly, because the mites reproduce quickly plus it is costly & disruptive.

AllerGuard prevents dust mites from reaching their primary source of food & drastically reduces the level of dust mites in the bed.

The most practical way to control allergies is to control dust mites taking preventive measures so that exposure to allergens is minimized. This method attacks the root cause of the problem by minimizing the number of triggers.
